

Document imaging made easy.

Efficient!

Witness the end of paperwork as you know it. You now have the power to electronically store and manage digitally captured documents like never before. From booking sheets to entire case records, everything is always right where you left it—and instantly accessible.

“There is no substitute for being able to control and manage information efficiently.”

— Josh Jones / Siskiyou County Sheriff's Office

Making quick work of paperwork.

Consider the average case file. A random collection of miscellaneous documents. Official forms. Pieces of evidence. Information scrawled on slips of paper. Mismatched pages clipped together. And you've got to keep track of it all.

Fortunately, there is a simple solution. It's called PageLink.

Scan. Store. Retrieve.

As the document imaging extension of PictureLink, PageLink is the easiest way yet to organize information. Simply put, combined with PictureLink, it allows you to scan various documents, such as arrest reports, booking sheets, and narratives, then electronically link them to an existing case record. That means you can easily collect all related photographic images and accompanying documents together. All in one place. And all readily accessible.

FEATURES AT A GLANCE

- Intuitive, user-friendly format
- Highly customizable
- Extensive document display and enhancement options
- Multiple page display/view
- Redaction and annotation capabilities
- Integrates with your existing information system
- Supports legacy applications
- User-definable directories and indexes
- Flexible, scalable solution

ARCHITECTURE COMPATIBILITY

PageLink can be configured for standalone operations or as an interface to almost any host application.

- UNIX
- AS/400
- Mainframes
- VAXs
- DOS
- Windows
- Windows NT
- And more

Your system. Working harder.

We don't change the way you work. We simply help you work more efficiently. That's because PageLink not only works with your existing systems, it enhances them. Once scanned, PageLink documents are saved in a standard, non-proprietary format so you can organize, store, and view them in just about any application you choose. Of course, you can always use PageLink to store, manage, and electronically distribute documents as well.

Why Dynamic Imaging?

We specialize exclusively in providing imaging solutions to the law enforcement community. It's all we do. And we do it better than anyone else. Because we not only understand our business, we thoroughly understand the specialized requirements of yours.
